Roosevelt Loses Ground in West, Gaining in East

Some Decline Is Noted in the Dissatisfied Corn Belt

PERCENTAGE HOLDS

Digest Vote Shows F. D. R. More Popular Than Ever in 15 States

The New Deal shows a loss of popularity in the midwestern agricultural regions and an increasing support in industrial States, as evidenced by the 625,920 votes tallied in the fourth report of The Literary Digest's nationwide poll on Roosevelt's acts and policies which will be published in this week's issue of the magazine.

The latest returns give 370,491 votes for the Administration to 255,428 against, which is a ratio of about 3 to 2. Twenty-three of the twenty-five states reported in the current abulation vote in favor of the New Deal, Maine and Vermont only dissenting.

Percentage Holds Up
The administration receives a 59.19 per cent vote of confidence in this week's tally, which is practically the same as it got in the previous weeks' vote.

In the 1932 election the twenty-five states from which poll returns have been received to date gave Roosevelt a combined vote of 55.50 per cent which shows a post-election gain in popularity for the President of 3.69 per cent, as against slightly over 7 per cent last week.

Incomplete but "substantial" returns are received from Harvard and Yale Universities in a separate poll on the same question, which is being conducted by The Literary Digest in a number of colleges.

Harvard votes 1983 for the Roosevelt policies to 639 against, while Yale votes 973 for the Roosevelt policies to 640 against.

In 1932 the Yale News and the Harvard Crimson conducted pre-election straw polls on the Presidential candidates. Hoover beat Roosevelt almost 3 to 1 at Harvard and almost 4 to 1 at Yale.

The 1932 election vote at Yale was Hoover 1,416, Roosevelt 370 and Thomas 317.

First returns from Texas and Arkansas give the Administration more than a 3 to 1 vote of confidence, the largest he receives from any states to date. In the 1932 election Texas gave Roosevelt over a 7 to 1 vote and Arkansas over 5 to 1.

Losses in West
A comparison of the 1932 election percentages for Roosevelt with those of The Literary Digest poll, in some mid-western states, shows a decline in his popularity.

The comparison shows: Illinois: election 55.23 per cent, poll 53.37 per cent; Indiana: election 54.66 per cent, poll 52.06 per cent; Iowa: 57.63 per cent, poll 51.55 per cent; Nebraska: election 62.98 per cent, poll 52.12 per cent; Oklahoma: election 73.30 per cent, poll 69.66 per cent; Wisconsin: election 63.45 per cent, poll 61.93 per cent.

Some of the states which indicate, by comparison, an increase of popularity for the President include: Connecticut: election 47.40 per cent, poll 57.51 per cent; Massachusetts: election 50.64 per cent, poll 53.94 per cent; Michigan: election 52.37 per cent, poll 61.24 per cent; New Jersey: election 49.49 per cent, poll 57.35 per cent; New York: election 53.33 per cent, poll 60.75 per cent and Pennsylvania: election 45.32 per cent, poll 61.03 per cent.

Maine and Vermont the only states voting against Roosevelt's acts and policies, also show an increase in sentiment for him over his ratios in the 1932 election.

Gains in 15 States
In fifteen states the President's ratios of ballots are greater than his 1932 election ratios in the same states, and ten of them his ratios are shown to be smaller by comparison.

"More than half the Union is included in the fourth tally of The Literary Digest's poll to test national opinion on the New Deal," the magazine will state editorially.

"These twenty-five states furnished

Robbery of Bank Laid to Chapman

Hope Bandit Suspected in $10,000 Raid at Atlanta, Texas

ATLANTA, Texas.—(AP)—Texas and Arkansas officers continued their search Thursday night for two men who robbed the First National bank here of about $16,000 Wednesday but were without clues.

The loot included about $5,000 in cash and $6,000 in jewelry and bonds. The men were in the bank only a few minutes and escaped toward Shreveport, La., taking B. A. Clements, assistant cashier, with them but releasing him at the edge of town.

Charles Chapman, notorious Arkansas bank robber, was tentatively identified by two bank employees as one of the bandits. The identification was made from photographs.

Search for the two men concentrated in the region east of Bloomington Thursday night. Officers said there was a possibility they had changed to another automobile, from the maroon sedan which they drove at the time of the robbery.

Get $10,000 Loot

ATLANTA, Texas.—(AP)—Bottom lands of southwest Arkansas Wednesday night hid the trail of two men who early in the afternoon robbed the First National bank here of $10,325 in cash, negotiable securities and jewelry and then escaped after forcing the assistant cashier to accompany them from the city.

B. A. Clements, who was forced at pistol point to accompany the desperadoes, was let out of the bandit car as it headed toward the Arkansas line after leaving the city limits.

The bandits made their escape in a maroon colored sedan which bore a Missouri license. Sheriff E. L. Johnson, of Cass county, Texas, said. The car was trailed through Bloomington, Texas, and into Doddridge, Ark., where the trail was lost.

R. F. Dunklin, bank cashier, Wilmer Hughes, bookkeeper and an unidentified farmer and traveling salesman, were in the bank shortly after 2:30 p. m. when the robbery occurred. They were locked in the vault. The quartet freed themselves and spread the alarm.

Dictator Fails in Lithuania Uprising

Waldemar Arrested as Government Puts Down Revolution

LONDON.—(AP)—The revolt of Professor Augustinas Waldemar against the Lithuanian government has been completely suppressed and Waldemar is held in jail on a charge of treason, it was learned here Friday.

The fate of the leader and 20 army officers arrested with him rests with the Lithuanian authorities.

Revolution Fails

KAUNAS, Lithuania.—(AP)—Augustine Waldemar, former dictator of Lithuania, who was reported in foreign capitals Thursday to have seized the government, has been arrested. The country is quiet with the government in complete control of the situation.

Arrest of Waldemar ended his third attempt to overthrow the Lithuanian Fascist dictatorship, headed by President Antanas Smetona, who was his former colleague in governing the country.

Reports in London said that Waldemar went to the Lithuanian capital by airplane Thursday morning from the country town where he has been in exile since he was forced out of power by a coup d'etat in 1929.

A small portion of the army supported his attempted seizure of the government, but most of the troops remained loyal to the president.

Waldemar was shot to death by a Lithuanian soldier, it was reported, than the airport where he was taken into custody.

Earlier in the day, the German News Bureau had reported in Tilsit that the former dictator had seized the government with the aid of the army and had arrested a number of the civil officials. The Lithuanian government apparently took strict precautions to prevent news of the occurrence getting out.

Baccalaureate to Be Held at First Methodist Church

Saenger's Organ Fails, Compelling Change in Location

AT 11 A. M. SUNDAY

Senior Play at City Hall Friday Night—Saenger Party Tuesday

The baccalaureate services for Hope High School graduating class will be held at First Methodist church instead of the Saenger theater as originally announced.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The change in place was made because the Saenger's pipe-organ was found to be out of condition, representatives of the class announced.

Seniors and juniors will meet at the church at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning to practice the processionals, which will be under direction of Mrs. Roy Stephenson.

Another feature of commencement week will be concluded at 8 o'clock Friday night at the city hall with the presentation of the annual senior play, "Tiger House."

Dillinger's Pal Is Shot to Death

Tommy Carroll 14th of Mob or Suspects to Be Slain by Police

WATERLOO, Ia.—(AP)—Tommy Carroll, 35, bank robber and accused slayer, was shot fatally by peace officers here Thursday—third of John Dillinger's mobmen to be killed in the nation-wide drive to eradicate the gang.

Carroll fell as he reached for his gun to resist arrest by two detectives who spotted his car on a tip from a mechanic. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

Captured with him was Jean Crompton, 21, who said she was Carroll's wife of a "week or 10 days." Both Carroll and the woman were in the federal police trap in Northern Wisconsin that failed when Dillinger and his outlaws shot their way to freedom April 22, leaving two dead.

The death of Carroll brought to 14 those attributed to the Dillinger gang or killings resulting from the search for the Indiana hoodlum.

As officers spotted Carroll's car here, reports were current that another couple in a second automobile fled the Waterloo vicinity eastward and police mobilized efforts to seize the car.

A trivial thing tripped up Carroll—minor trouble to his automobile. He drove his car to a garage, asking a mechanic to fix it. The mechanic grew suspicious when he noted extra license plates and weapons in the car. As soon as he completed his work, he notified police.

Senior Play Here at 8 p. m. Friday

"Tiger House," Comedy Thriller, to Be Given at City Hall

The Hope senior class urges all who love hair-raising thrillers, rib-tickling comedies, and a sufficient amount of romance to gather at the city hall auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock. It is this variety which makes "Tiger House" so entertaining. And it leads to an unexpected conclusion that will leave the audience gasping and maybe a bit chagrined to find that at the end of the play.

Much time, work and careful planning have resulted in what is hoped to be one of the most ambitious productions the seniors have ever attempted.

Those who see "Tiger House" will feel better for an evening well spent amidst thrills, chills, shudders, laughter and—love!

Dorothy Dell, New Film Star, Killed

Sensation of 'Wharf Angel' Dies in Automobile Accident

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Dorothy Dell Goff, who attained spectacular prominence in motion pictures in the last several months, was killed in an automobile accident early Friday.

Her companion, Dr. Carl Wagner, prominent Pasadena dentist who was questioned by the authorities several months ago in connection with the unsolved murder of Dr. Leonard Steiner, was probably fatally injured.

The accident occurred when the couple's large sedan plunged from the road as they were returning from a gay party.

From Hattiesburg, Miss., Miss Dell won a beauty contest at New Orleans, was named Miss Universe in 1930, and later entered motion pictures.

Dorothy Dell made a nationwide hit in "Wharf Angel," which showed at the Saenger theater in Hope about a month ago.

Supporting Victor McLaglen the star, Miss Dell was hailed by the critics as a startling new actress—a career cut short by death.

Scout Camp Will Open on June 22

Hope Scouting Progress Praised by Executive Powell

The first section of the annual Boy Scout camp at Camp Pioneer, near Potter, Ark., has been eliminated, and the second section will open June 22. It was announced from Texarkana Friday by Area Scout Executive George Powell.

Hope Scouts who intend to go to camp should see their scoutmasters for details.

Progress in Hope scouting was praised at an executive conference in Texarkana last Thursday, at which Hope was represented by the Rev. George F. X. Strasser, local district chairman.

Executive Powell reported that this year the Tex-Ark area has a total of 1,241 member Scouts—one more than the peak enrollment of 1928.

French and British Brought to Terms

Despite Hard Language, They Agree on Disarmament Plan

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(AP)—Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, said Friday that a disarmament agreement reached Thursday night between France and Great Britain would be of real value and paves the way for solving the disarmament problem—if that problem can be solved.

Davis said a reconciliation has actually been reached between the two countries despite an acrimonious discussion between the two countries early in the week, and this reconciliation takes into account the attitude of both countries, the American said.

Speaking in behalf of the American delegation, Davis declared the agreement did not mean the immediate attainment of disarmament, but it did mean that the two countries now can deal with the problem in a constructive manner.

Dorothy Dell made a nationwide hit in "Wharf Angel," which showed at the Saenger theater in Hope about a month ago.

Supporting Victor McLaglen the star, Miss Dell was hailed by the critics as a startling new actress—a career cut short by death.

Baer Is Declared Out of Condition

Publicity Stunt a Boomerang—Carnera Fight May Be Postponed

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—(AP)—An innocent little ballyhoo stunt turned into one of those "unloaded" gags Thursday as Bill Brown, member of the New York Athletic Association, all but blew Primo Carnera's heavyweight title defense against Max Baer June 15 out of existence.

Brown, watched Baer box nine rounds, and then announced that he would recommend Friday to the other two commission members, John J. Fitch and D. Walker Weir, that the match be postponed a month or called off entirely.

Brown's statement turned the fight camp into an uproar, brought howls of protest from Madison Square Garden, and left the Baer handlers, who suggested the postponement idea Friday, as "lythoo stunts, looking foolish."

"If that's the best Baer can do," Brown announced at the ringside after watching the challenger clown through nine rounds with four sparring partners, "then he shouldn't be

Unemployed and Aged Persons to Obtain Security

Long-Term Program to Go Before Congress Next Winter

DEFIES OPPOSITION

Roosevelt Hurls Down Challenge to Administration Critics

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in his longest message to congress, said Friday he was preparing a vast plan of social insurance for the security "of the citizen and his family."

This, with another national plan for land and water resources, will be laid before the congress next winter.

"When the next congress convenes I hope to be able to present to it a carefully-considered plan covering the development and human use of our national resources of land and water over a long period of years," he said.

The president disclosed he had begun the actual study of looking to a unified system of social insurance, including unemployment and old age.

The message was clearly the president's reply to any opposition his administration encounters during the coming campaign.

Clemency to Bank Bandits Denounced

Ouachita Sheriff Protests Furlough for Stephens Robber

CAMDEN, Ark.—Following the arrest at Lufkin, Texas, of Johnnie Rogers, escaped Arkansas convict, who violated a 10-day furlough several months ago, Sheriff Arthur W. Ellis of Ouachita county wrote Governor Futrell a letter Thursday protesting any further clemency to bank robbers sent up from Ouachita county.

Sheriff Ellis said he had been reliably informed that a movement was under way to obtain clemency for Oscar Chandler, now serving a three-year sentence from Ouachita county for participation in the robbery of the Citizens Bank & Trust co., of Camden last June. He wrote the governor:

"I wish to protest any clemency being shown Oscar Chandler, who was implicated and convicted of the Camden bank robbery, and trust in the event the matter comes up for the consideration of your office that you will disapprove leniency or clemency in this matter."

Rogers was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary for robbery of the Bank of Stephens last June, and with Leon Farley, who later died in the penitentiary, was sent to Tucker prison farm at the October term of Ouachita Circuit court. Farley also participated in the Camden bank hold-up.

With regard to the furlough and clemency for Rogers, Sheriff Ellis wrote the governor:

"This office is still at loss to understand how and why Rogers, who was convicted in Ouachita county, was granted a furlough upon a petition signed by citizens of Union county, when this office and the officers of the court were not consulted in the matter."

Indict Couple for Burning of House

Two Held Under $3,000 Bond Each for Arson at Texarkana

TEXARKANA.—After a three-day investigation, the Bowie county grand jury at Boston, Texas, Thursday returned indictments charging arson against Mrs. H. L. Laster and Vernon Roach in connection with the burning of Mrs. Laster's home and beauty parlor at Texarkana Saturday midnight. Maxey D. Dixon of Atlanta, Texas, burned to death.

Mrs. Laster had been a week-end visitor at Atlanta, the home of Roach, officers said, and was with him when she was notified that her home had burned. She formerly lived at Atlanta. Her home there was destroyed by fire several months ago.

Sheriff Brooks and District Attorney Elmer Lincoln who headed the investigation, report that the fuel for the fatal fire came from Roach's filling station and a tractor belonging to Cass county which Durmon operated.

They said also that furnishings which had been removed from the Laster home a day or two previous to the fire were discovered in Roach's home at Atlanta where Mrs. Laster is alleged to have spent the week-ends.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

If you are a bride don't let the planning of meals develop into an irksome routine. If you will remember that there are certain rules, even in planning, you will have less trouble.

In the first place the occupations of the person you are planning for must be considered. Then the amount of money you can afford to spend on food will naturally influence your choice of meat and vegetables. Also your ability as a cook and the amount of help you have in the kitchen enters into the planning of meals whether they be for two or more.

Over and above this you must see to it that your meals are well balanced. First are the fuel foods to supply heat and energy for the activities of the body. Foods rich in sugar, starch and fat come in these classes. Second, growing foods to provide material for the building and repair of the body tissues. These are the foods rich in proteins, like eggs and meats. Third, "protective foods", containing mineral constituents and vitamins and adding bulk. Vegetables, milk, fruit and whole grain make up this group.

Plan Menus In Advance

When you make out menus in the terms of meat and potatoes there are other angles of the problem to consider. Some like steaks and some like stews. Carrots may be cheaper than peas and He may not like lamb. I believe that you will find that you can get greater variety and that you will do your planning more competently and economically if you sit down with paper and pencils and outline your menus for several days or even a week in advance. One way to do this is to decide on the meats for a week. Then fill in with potatoes cooked in various ways and other seasonal cooked vegetables.

Next work out lunches for the week, using as many left-overs as possible, and supplying the second protein food, other than meat.

Plan the breakfast fruits and cereals, taking care to avoid repetition. It won't cost a bit more to keep several different kinds of cereals open, using first one and then the other, than to open one box and use it all before opening another. If you have a toast and coffee breakfast vary the breadstuff frequently too.

Avoid "Color" Clashes

In order to include two servings of fruit daily, plan fruits for lunch-recess and dinner in the form of cocktails, salads and desserts.

At the time you are planning menus, visualize them. Play particular attention to contrasts of color and texture. Avoid using colors that clash, as beets and carrots. Take care not to repeat foods of distinctive flavor in the day's menu.

In working over leftovers it's a good plan to skip a day between their first and second appearances. This prevents monotony and makes meals a lot more interesting.

Naturally the amounts needed to serve two persons are dependent on appetite, variety of foods in the menu and the method of serving.

Woolworth Store Mobbed by Nazis

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—The Nazi campaign against department stores was revived Wednesday, ostensibly as a well organized retaliatory action against boycotts of German products abroad. In several cities mobs gathered about stores of the F. W. Woolworth company, shouting and daubing the building with paint.

German representatives of the Woolworth company denied there was any foundation for the charge that the company had joined a boycott on German goods in the United States. A buyer is on his way here from New York now, they said, and Canadian buyers have been here recently.

Many newspapers commented action of the angry crowds, which forced the closing of several stores.

Windows of the Woolworth store at Kassel were smashed. At Bonn a store was daubed with paint. Crowds in Ludwigshafen and Breslau gathered about branches of the firm, shouting and sticking up posters advising persons not to buy.

The Governor of Illinois has vetoed a bill giving men the right to stand up at a bar and drink. Now they'll have to sit down to get drunk.

Arkansas Press in Session on Friday

PI ARKANSAS PRESS
CLARKSVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—The annual summer session of the Arkansas State Press Association convened at the College of the Ozarks here Friday. The convention will last through Saturday.

The largest attendance in the history of the association is predicted by C. Armitage Harper, Little Rock, executive secretary of the association. Harper said meeting of the code authority with the group explains the expected large attendance.

One of the features of the meeting will be an address, "NRA in the National Field," by Kenneth F. Dalbridge, president-elect of the National Editorial Association, and a newspaper publisher at Bloomfield, Ia.

Just like President Roosevelt to go fishing where sharks are thickest, and still evade New York.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

Text, Matt. 27:33-43

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 10.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Our lesson deals with the most significant event in all history—the death of Jesus on the cross.

The crucifixion of Jesus was not an isolated tragedy in human history. Its significance lies in some measure in the fact that there is so much of tragedy in human life that this one outstanding event in the agony and death of the man of supreme gentleness and goodness is symbolic of the suffering of the innocent from tyranny and evil. It was not only Jesus, but humanity, that was crucified upon the cross, and humanity continues to be crucified by the sins and cruelties of its own perpetration.

But there is a deeper significance in the crucifixion of Jesus. The story of Jesus and his life work did not end on the cross. In a sense, his life work had only attained its climax, for henceforth his influence was not simply to be that of a teacher instructing little groups on the mountain side or speaking to multitudes in the fields and highways.

His influence was to be that of a living spirit everywhere present, guiding men and strengthening them as they sought to live in the light of his teaching and carry on his work in the world.

In the hour of his death Jesus could indeed say, "I have overcome the world."

This is the miracle of all history, that in seeming defeat spiritual lives and forces accomplish their real triumph. We have expressed it in various ways that sum up the observation of history:

"The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church." "Bread upon the waters returns after many days." "He that goeth forth weeping shall return also rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

It is this faith in the permanency of truth, in truth's inevitable triumph, that is the anchorage of men in a world of dark and evil conditions. Progress is slow, the powers of sin, and of hate, and of prejudice, seem to triumph and to overthrow all aims and purposes of right and truth; darkness settles down upon the world with little light.

But out of this great darkness a dawning comes. We discover that the sun of God's love and righteousness has not gone out on the universe, but that it is still the one power that upholds life and enables us to go on.

In this story of the crucifixion of Jesus we have an episode in the life of a man, an individual whose divinity was manifest in human form in a body that could suffer and in a spirit that knew anguish. Were this not so, the story could have little meaning for our lives.

Paul wrote of his sharing the sufferings of Jesus, and in a deep sense we must share those sufferings if we would discover and know the meaning of the resurrection.

To know Jesus in his earthly life and to follow him all the way to the cross is an experience that must come into our lives if we would find the richness of his salvation and the power of fellowship with him.

But there is a larger aspect, also, of the crucifixion of Jesus. The agonies of Calvary were more than the sufferings of an individual. They have a social side related to all the great life of humanity.

There is a fellowship of the cross in which men may live and learn and find power by ushering in a new day of mercy and justice and peace.

Should Harvest Potatoes Early

Late Digging Means Loss of Port of the Crop Says Stanley

Careful and quick handling in harvesting Irish potatoes is fundamental for the prevention of damage and decay, says F. R. Stanley, county agent. Large losses frequently result from injurious practices at the time of digging. After the expenses of production have been incurred, any practice decreasing losses and adding to quality increases profits to that extent.

One of the greatest losses is from sunscald, or sunburn. Many growers allow their potatoes to lie on the ground exposed to the hot sun after digging, and scald develops. Damage from this may not be evident at the time of loading, but soft rot may develop during transit. Potatoes will scald in a few minutes if left exposed to the sun during the heat of the day, and should not be dug more rapidly than they can be picked up and placed in the shade. If possible, it is better to dig only during the cooler parts of the day, or to dig one row and pick the potatoes up before another row is dug.

Whether dug with hoes, plows, or machines, care should be taken to reduce the number of cuts and bruises. This is important as many fungous diseases which cause decay cannot enter the potato and develop when the skin is free from cuts and bruises, says Mr. Heckman.

Sudan Grass as Summer Pasture

Makes Good Forage for Hot and Dry Summer Months

Sudan grass has attained popularity as a summer pasture crop, states Frank R. Stanley, county agent. In regions of low rainfall and high temperatures, its carrying capacity during hot summer months is superior to that of any other grass or legume.

On the Experimental Farm at Dodge City, Kansas, a herd of milk cows was pastured alternately on sudan grass and on native grasses. The sudan grass furnished abundant pasturage at the rate of one cow per acre for 125 days and cows made a daily average of 3.8 pounds more milk per cow on sudan grass than on native grasses.

Hogs relish the grass and when they have access to sudan grass pasture, good gains can be produced with 60 to 70 per cent of the customary grain ration.

Date of seeding in this section is any time between May 1st and July 15th. It can be sown broadcast for pasture at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds of seed per acre. Sudan grass seed is cheap and soils of Hempstead county are adapted to its growth. It will furnish some cheap feed during summer and early fall months.

Scanning New Books

Just about a hundred years ago a weird and woolly military expedition sailed from Buffalo for the upper lakes. Its leader was a half-mad Frenchman who had proclaimed himself "emperor of the west, the second Montezuma"; he aimed to seize California and New Mexico and set up a new Indian empire out there.

This quaint and forgotten bit of history is dug up by Neil H. Swanson to serve as the foundation for his new novel, "The Phantom Emperor" and it makes a pretty fair sort of yarn of the romantic-adventure variety.

Mr. Swanson gives us a brave young American who is commissioned by Andrew Jackson to go along with this expedition and make sure that it isn't an undisciplined attempt by the British to steal a hunk of American territory.

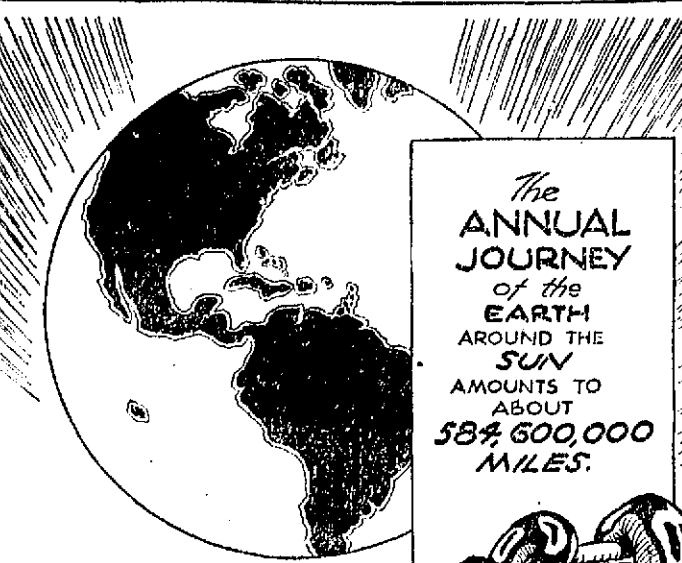

The French leader has a lovely daughter, with whom the American falls in love, and there's a villainous half-breed who means nobody any good; and, all in all, you get your full money's worth of romance, fighting, and general eventfulness.

The expedition had a pretty tough time of it. It got to the tip of Lake Superior and hiked overland toward the Red river, where new recruits were to be signed. Winter set in, their supplies got lower and lower and the leader got crazier and crazier—but, in the end the brave American gets the girl, even if the expedition doesn't get to Mexico, so all's well.

The book is a little over-long, and in spots it's a shade confusing. It isn't up to Mr. Swanson's earlier book, "The Judas Tree." But it makes pretty fair reading, at that, for these hot summer days.

Published by Putnam, it sells for $2.50.

Ferrell Deal Gives Hub Rare Combination in Brother Battery

Tom Yawkey, young man of many millions, has spent $25,000 more, and another famous name, that of Wesley Ferrell, has been added to the roster of the Boston Americans.

The deal should help the Red Sox not a little, and gives them something mighty rare—brother pitching to brother.

Saying that Wesley and Rick Ferrell will be the first brother battery in the more than 50 years that the major leagues have been in existence, is a mighty broad statement, but that appears to be the case after a patient perusal of yellowing records. It undoubtedly will be the first in which both members are outstanding.

Ferrell's arm must be all right, despite the fact that he decided he was through as a pitcher last August and took to the outfield, where he was disillusioned insofar as being another Babe Ruth was concerned.

Otherwise, the Boston club would not have taken over his contract. An agent of Yawkey certainly must have scouted the big, handsome right-hander in the North Carolina Textile League, where he remained this spring rather than accept a basic salary of $5000, with a sliding scale whereby he could collect $11,500 by winning 20 games.

Ferrell, Grove, Walberg, Pipgras, Penneck—how those Red Sox would go if just two of them regained the form that was theirs not so long ago.

Sees Wide Open Race

Bucky Harris can explain anything pertaining to baseball except the shortage of first-rate major league talent.

The Hub manager is well qualified to speak on this subject. Yawkey has paid more than $500,000 for players in a year.

"Just as many—or more—youngsters play the game," explains Harris. "Smaller circuits are fighting their way back. Leagues and schools are conducted for boys. There is superior coaching in the colleges. Yet I don't know a single minor league player who would help us at this time."

Twelve of 17 athletes for whom Yawkey signed five-figure checks—one of them, Grove, came at six figures—were obtained from the Yankees. AAAAA's, Indians and Browns. But Harris professes not to be discouraged and to believe that the Red Sox can cop the calico in a wide open

Bilious Attacks

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theford's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. "I have used Black-Draught," writes Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. "There is a package of it on my mantel now. I take it for biliousness. If I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me that I know."

Warning Issued Government Men

Dismissals, Resignations Follow Solicitation for Campaign

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Warning that workers violating laws against political activities will be "removed" and evidence given to "prosecuting" authorities, Thursday was given all the Treasury's 50,000 employees by Secretary Morgenthau.

A form letter called attention to criminal statutes forbidding "any officer or employee to solicit or receive political contributions from any other officer or employee" and prohibiting "any person, whether an employee of the government or not, to solicit or receive political contributions in any room or building occupied by government officers."

His notice followed half a dozen investigations and the removal of two collectors of internal revenue, Horatio J. Abbott, Democratic national committeeman, resigned from the Michigan revenue office after Morgenthau's personal inquiry into charges political funds were solicited by employees in his office. Two employees, George Woods and John Tighe, were suspended.

A week later, again after a personal hearing, Morgenthau suspended Alvin F. Fix, internal revenue collector at Philadelphia, and five other employees in that office on the charge of soliciting "political funds on the premises of a federal building."

Slow, lacking dash and fire, punching only in spurts and then not very hard, Baer turned in a very ordinary workout. His general physical condition, however, seemed good.

"I'll be all right next Thursday night," he insisted. "I'm just rounding into shape. I'll knock Camera out inside of 10 rounds. I'd like to fight him tomorrow night. I've got a lot of heavy duty to take care of. I know I look terrible but what's my opinion against a million others?"

race. The White Sox, Browns and AAAAA's are the only clubs that he counts out of it.

List of Casualties

The Red Sox pilot points to the fact that his sorry has had more than its share of injuries and ailments, and sees no reason why it shouldn't fairly rear along when all hands get squared away.

Grove's sore arm kept him out of there until the other day.

Rick Ferrell has been on the sidelines with a bad leg. The second finger of Walberg's gloved hand was split by a ball hit back at him, and blood poisoning put Rube in a hospital for a fortnight. A sprained thumb forces Max Bishop to confine himself to pinch hitting, and Bill Cissell is limping around with a broken toe.

But Harris contends that the biggest loss of all has been that of Julius Solters, who hit .361 for Baltimore in 1933 and led the International loop in home runs and practically everything else. After lambs kept Solters in the dugout for two weeks, his hand was broken by one of Mel Harder's hard ones the day he returned to the game in Cleveland.

Harris may be an optimist, but the fact remains that a ball club can't win a pennant in the Sick Bay League.

three-fourths of the country's popular vote when they elected Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932.

"Pennsylvania holds firm with 64.03 per cent of its new total of 85,179 ballots. The Literary Digest readers will remember that the 1932 Presidential poll gave Pennsylvania to Roosevelt by a majority over Hoover of 31,618 in a total Pennsylvania vote of 240,939. "The figures were: Hoover, 93,057. Roosevelt 124,675. The election, however, gave Pennsylvania to Hoover by 157,592 over Roosevelt, the figures being: Hoover 1,453,540. Roosevelt 1,295,948.

"Accusations of wide-spread election frauds followed this result. In Washington the House Elections Investigation Committee was told by its special counsel, S. Davis Wilson, that he and his deputies had uncovered 40,000 votes improperly cast in Philadelphia alone.

"The Democratic National Committee considered demanding a recount, but President Roosevelt's victory throughout the nation was so overwhelming and the Committee's funds were so low that the charges were allowed to drop.

Robinson Pushes Case of Tugwell

Administration Leader Prepares to Force Confirmation

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Rexford G. Tugwell, one of the president's young professorial advisors, was made a senate issue Thursday through the move of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic lead, to force his confirmation as undersecretary of Agriculture at this session.

Due to the opposition of Chairman Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, of the Agriculture Committee, Tugwell's nomination was pigeon-holed. Robinson moved in the senate to discharge the committee. Approval would place Tugwell's name before the senate for confirmation or rejection.

Veteran senators said it was the first motion of its kind that they recalled.

The Republican leader, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, objected to immediate consideration of Robinson's motion but under senate rules it may be brought up again Friday.

Smith, who has said he opposed Tugwell, now assistant secretary of Agriculture, because he is not a "dirt-farmer," was not in the chamber when Robinson arose. The South Carolinian later told newspapermen, "I'll say what I have to say on the senate floor Friday."

Robinson and other Democratic leaders were confident they had votes to spare.

Fixing of Prices Abandoned by NRA

Scores of Codes to Be Revised to Meet New Ruling

WASHINGTON.—(P)—NRA turned its back on price-fixing Thursday in outlining a new policy that will require revision of scores of codes to permit free competition.

The force of anti-trust laws against covert price-maintaining combinations was made unquestionable by the new plan, which reduced all code restrictions on prices to the simplest terms, on a base which would make arrangements to keep prices up difficult, if not impossible.

Only in definite emergencies would even a minimum price be fixed for any industry or any item. NRA men said they believed the new policy represented the first agreement of either government or any business agency on what constituted desirable price competition.

The declaration, affected indirectly by groups such as the Darrow Board responded partly to earlier public criticism.

It was also announced that the 50 or so industrialists who have worked with NRA as members of the Industrial Advisory Board, have arranged to meet in Hot Springs, Va., within 10 days to compare views on NRA operation and discuss ideas for changes.

Willfully destructive price cutting is forbidden and any prices which appear unreasonably low may be investigated and a correction required if they are found to be unfair.
